

Pearl Harbor Day – December 7, 1941

One early Sunday morning a Polynesian Paradise,
Was about to be awakened by a Big Surprise.
Japanese War planes were filling the sky,
Destroying practically everything far and wide.

Pearl Harbor had been hit by a sneak attack,
Almost nothing was left intact.

The U.S.A. lost 90% of their Navy that day,
Military leaders looked hopeless full of dismay.
But our commander in Chief (FDR),
Did not allow them to see it that way.

Immediately he gave them instructions,
To keep America from annihilation.

To make matters worse there was a dictator,
Who thought he could do God's job better.

A Nazi sub sank one of our ships,
In our own water minding own business
Drawing us into a war in Europe,
As if Asian trouble wasn't enough.

France has not been lost,
Said General de Gaulle.
This is a World War,
With help of our allies we'll evened the score.

The Nazi's surrendered,
Then started the cold war.

Still some unfinished fighting in Asia,
Matter and energy interchangeable,
Oppenheim, Fermi colleague see if atom splitting possible.

Together they found a way to split the atom,
Which helped enormously make Japan say, 'We're done'.

For whatever reason we won WW II
Ben Franklin "The more I study history the more I am convinced, that God governs in the affairs of Man."

— Mark B. Rockefeller, December 7, 2017

