

Season's Greetings

They don't even wait until Black Friday
The gate will open stampede on the way
You may get trampled to stay
But that's the risk you pay.
Thieves will start they're assembly line
Something's rung up they'll steal it that's mine
Give to thief #2, off to thief #3, etc.
Until packages end up in a pickup truck
Off to be sold at big profits
The police will shortly arrive
Hitting shoppers and thieves trying to survive
Yes they are going to get out the Black Jack's
Horrible interference with the Holiday Spirit
Shopping list must get each right color and size
Meticulously wrapped – oh what a prize
Wild holiday parties take place
Indulging yourself in all sorts of food
Helps you to get in the proper Holiday mood
Wild holiday parties will take place
People's faces may appear out of shape
They will get in the seasonal spirit
Drinking down too much spirits
From 'Ye good ole spirit shoppe'
These packages will be delivered Christmas Eve
By jolly old elf driving a sleigh
Christmas tree decorated for display
Gifts all placed up in proper array

All of the above we get
From the story of three wise men bearing gifts
A lot of mythology and other tradition thrown in
Then we have the other Christmas story

Virgin Mary gave birth to her firstborn
In swaddling clothes lay him in a manger
No more room at the Inn for another
Lowly Shepherds were the one chosen
Angelic host pronounced great omen
"Tidings of Great Joy
For tonight in the City of David
A Savior has been born"
What was the Shepherds reaction?
Let's go and investigate this proclamation
After witnessing the scene
They left the manger rejoicing...
Now: What is your response?
