

Summer Rainbows by Mark B. Rockefeller

Summers are [a] good time to relax and swim,
And vacation can begin.

We can go traveling to the waters
And take along our sons and daughters.

We will go to the island by boat
And listen to the radio by remote

We will build a sandcastle
That the tide will bring down in a short while.
We will day dream
While eating some ice cream

The men drank Beer
To make them full of cheer.
Keep it many, keep it near.
The Women cooked the fish
To make a good tasting dish.

There would be clouds and lightening
Which many thot to be frightening.
Lots of people think Summer's the best Season
For all of the above good reasons.
— March, 2019

[Please know, Assistance from Chestelm Adults contributed, with gratitude – MBR.]